

Emotional
Ramification

By: Brandon Stinson

To the love of my life

My everything.

Unwana U.

Introduction

This is an unedit version of the book. Some things may be misplaced, but the raw emotions of how I felt can not be missed. These are true feelings and honest questions that sometimes I ask myself. Maybe some people would consider my style of writing to be eccentric, and honestly, it just might be. But these are my feelings and thoughts that I would like to share with you. Thank-you.

7 Days

Monday I had little value
Tuesday I searched for reason
What I found on Wednesday was nothing Thursday? I slept late Friday I met her in front of Walter's Saturday I fell in love with her On Sunday I realize life was nothing until two days before, when I met you.

Blue Diamond

You are my blue diamond
Your beauty runs deep
Your heart is the most purest
Baby, you are one unique
Special type of woman
You are greater than the rest
Your perfect body excites me
It's hard to pass the test
When you're seen
You have to be seen again
One glance is not enough
You are prettier than ocean sand
Deeper than ocean depth
Good God, I need help
I wear you and feel feelings
One man has never felt It's the blue in your core
The fire in your soul
No matter what age difference
You could never be sold
Or treated, or faded
Your shine is perpetual
That shine forever and doesn't stop
This love is beyond measurable

Sight Seeing

Rolling down Main Street past the broken fire hydrant into the sunshine of hope I see heaven
Not the one in the sky that ~~is~~ surpasses the ozone but the one that I call home Where a Samurai stands in the street
No sword, just windy greetings
All the people get to see the show of talking birds and flipping dogs Leaning against the shed tree which happen to be in the middle of the forest.
Unhappiness seem the forest
And by God!
my happiness is the sharpest Personally, I feel like a target
You want to be happy?
Then be him
Shake the Samurai hand and watch the show of flipping dogs!
Go ahead
be happy!
Stand under that shed tree
You're only sight seeing It's all gonna pass you by.

Inside My Element

Where do I start...

Where do I begin with the emotions that control my soul

How do I explain a small portion of who I am with-out giving myself a tab bit extra

How can I resist; how can I resist the love that enlight my darkest days.

When the storm settle over my dwelling how do I feel comfort in a sea shell that's only big enough for one

How do I calm a storm;

how do I fight it with-out frightening it

How do I make love to peace

How do I finally find all the beauty ~~of~~ your heart and soul seek

I feel warm inside my element

My element bring peace to me when nothing else do

When my dreams become real enough

I believe they are true

Nothing come close to loving you

Inside my element;

my element is you.

How Dare You

You left me sitting here broken hearted
How dare you,
cause I'm wishing you would save me
My family say you'll get over him
But how dare them, cause I'm missing you like crazy

How come I couldn't have been with you we could've died together I'd rather die right now to be with you then stay here to see another Christmas
Another New Year
Another 4th of July
How dare you leave m and take my happiness with you

You left me singing our love song
Left me in disbelief that you're really gone
You took my heart and took it with you
How dare you
Oh my God, how dare you

Oh Lord, how dare you take him
How dare you, baby!!! (screaming)

How dare you!

How dare you

(crying, whispering)

Baby, I really need you

Feeling

What I feel is different

In some ways, what I feel is exciting Yet still, what I feel is something I couldn't feel on my own.

In my ~~etc~~ coldest moments

What I feel is warm

Through my heart and into my soul
This feeling never get old

I started noticing what I felt is what I feel all the time

What I feel for myself now,
I could never do this on my own

This feeling run bone deep

Chills up my spinal column

Warm my heart for all it's worth

What I feel is love

The One I love

My faith is into you Through these eyes I see as much as I can
I first stand as a man
And then I stand as the man that will worship you

Through your present
I make my present as altruistic as I can
I look for your love to guide me
To make me hold, to make me a better man

Nothing compare to your elation
To the joy it bring to stand by you
To your eyes: brown as honey
You are the woman I give my all to

For every moment spent confiding in you
I reap the fruit my love have planted
We can go anywhere in the world together
The possibilities are truly unlimited

The Next

I'm looking at what's to expect
Nothing that I haven't had the best
I'm wondering what's next
I haven't seen anything yet Glory is coming, I expect That game winning 3 that's all net
I'd do it through blood and sweat
Earn every bit of my respect

This time I'm looking to soar
Make 'em beg that I give 'em more
In that crowd, every girl and boy
Heart will raise, and their voices roar
Feel it, like this, breathe it Come full alive, want it, need it Through blood and sweat and no regret
What come next, you'd never expect

Echo (The Darkness)

In the darkness the light penetrate me
Blinded, I'm unable to move, nor see My senses have failed me, abandoned me
There is nothing I feel or taste but the air I breathe

In the darkness my hope have fled
My dreams have perceived to be stored, unfeed
I'm left recklessly stumbling, and unlead Socially fitted, but anti- everything now instead

In the darkness I avert to psalm Wishing for once I knew a song
I'd sing and my body wouldn't feel so numb Wrapped in my pain, I feel so dumb

In the darkness I dream of dreams
Sometimes letting the wave ~~carry~~ carry me up stream
The millions and millions flashes that beam through my hopeless soul or so they seem

In the darkness I'm bodiless and shapeless Confronted by solitude demanding a placement
My hopes and dreams are shattered and faceless Entangled in a web of confusing and achievement

Sui Generis

Love is crazy, you know
The way it bring you together and then rock your world and sometimes the people around you

They begin to hate but you excuse them because you know
They hate what they don't know
Unable to love what they can't have.

The strenght it take to rise up against a mob that want to lynch you for the choices you made The same people that used to be your friends are now the spectators driving you away

Funny how love is Funny that people would tell you who can't love like they got a clue like they really understand what love is

All I know is love is in you and me And anybody that don't believe in that is a person that don't believe in anything

We Fight

But what do we accomplish

Even the times we bump heads

We still seem to find something new to learn

And no matter how hot the sex we create we never get tired of the burn

Through all of our misfit adventure and post-shock tension

we become closer

Better than I ever knew you

The skies seem high but nothing's higher than the way I feel about you

So when we fight

it's only a sign of our commutation

Others won't understand it because outside the box

it's by far a foreign language

We ~~pause~~ pause and hold hands

Crying a heart rhythmic dance

Fighting off the troubles of what other people believe

Believing only in us

In trust

But still we fight to make sure our love last forever.

Give It Time

We find ourselves lost for words
Sitting on the couch trying to figure it all out Wondering why must we go through so many obstacles to get to a place we have no clue about

Our eyes are both fill with tears Trying to find somebody to lay this pain on Empty glasses still sit on the night stand
We don't know where it begin to go wrong

The way I swept you off your feet
Took you places you never been before
And some how we still made it here:
Some place we never been before

We give so much in this relationship
Sometime driving each-other outta our minds
What we haven't gave and should;
The last important thing and that's give our love a little time to grow and prosper just like a flower

I Know You Don't Know Me

I'm full of admiration
Since I first saw you you had me messed-up
You couldn't see it on my face?

Seriously, what is your name
I know what they call you but I never had the introduction
Nor the chance to get to know you

Your smile is amazing And the way you can't keep it in let me know you are a beautiful woman on the inside

So what would it take to get to know you on the inside What are my chances to see what type of woman you really are

Let me know

I know you don't know me.

Reason

You don't come around the way you used to and I'm not dolerous about it

Your attitude can beam another way cause I can live with-out it

My heart no longer plunge into orbit whenever I feel your touch

So if you're looking for a reason to leave baby, that's reason enough.

Excuse Me

Excuse how much I love you I can't help it, even though I try to bring it down, or share some with others
But it's hard when I wanna be with you forever.

You got to excuse the way I ~~love~~ look at you I stare so hard cause I can't believe out of all the people you could have loved, for some strange reason you chose me.

Excuse my conflicted interest
One minute I'm here and the next I'll be all over the place
You probably be like, damn this boy is crazy
But in truth, some~~thing~~ times I don't know what to say.

My heart be racing like a bullet train
So excuse the way I think some times
It's just so many things I love about you Probably why you drive me outta my mind

Time

Time sure know how to get hard, don't it?
What matter is we know how to get through them
That's the power of the love you and I ~~are~~ share
If victory is in the picture, you and I will get our share.

Times sure know how to bring out the best of us
And at times, it can also bring out the worst What's worst, is we ~~couldn't~~ let it create an effect that we shouldn't
And no matter how many times we say it's over, we know we couldn't

Times can put a smile on your beautiful face
As time move on you know I am here to stay
We have to remember not to let time get in the way Roll with it, and not against it, for time do not wait

Everytime I look into your eyes, I pause
For all the times I knew that you were my all My beginning, my ending, the stars I look up to All the time in the world, couldn't fulfill the time I wanna spend with you.

Self Fulfillment

Capture the moment of forever
Live today as though there is no tomorrow
Fill yourself full of happiness
Spend a second to count your blessings.
Spend a minute to feel better.
Find reasons to feel no sorrow
For your day will come where happiness will be your first instead of your second

Push for what you believe in Stand for all there is to believe in Stick to what you believe in Happiness for you begin when?
When you remove all the ~~negativity~~ negativism Pray until something happen
Even if you aren't monotheistic
Your hope is your driving force.

Just Because

Just because you're beautiful
I announce to the world roses are no longer needed
And when you smile I crack up Sometimes for no apparent reason

Just because

It's amazing what your presence do to me

The air around me is like a cool breeze

And just because your body is like, Oh! ...

I don't always remember to breathe

I get caught up in a mental triangle

A triplication of your heart, my love, our soul

And when I make love to you just because, things like that can never grow old

Even when we grow old

And that we'll do before it's all said and done

We make things special when others can't

We still have joy when others have none

Just because you never abandoned me

I'm forever in debt to the Queen of my life

Always and forever

You and I are greater than ten paradises alike.
